

About Robyn

Robyn Hatcher has spent her career helping leaders and teams rewrite the script on how they communicate, connect, and lead. With credits writing for All My Children and One Life to Live, Robyn knows a thing or two about plot twists – and even more about how to keep them from spoiling your workplace (and your well being!)

A dynamic keynote speaker, communication expert, and unapologetic energizer, Robyn's superpower is turning soft skills into hard results. Her unique frameworks (ActorTypes, EDIT & LUVE) blend neuroscience, storytelling, and emotional intelligence to help people show up as the most powerful version of themselves - in meetings, in sales calls, and onstage.

Robyn is a Certified Speaking Professional, Certified Neuro-Linguistic Programming Practitioner, and Exactly What to Say® Certified. She's helped elevate leadership and communication for top organizations including Con Edison, UBS, Spotify, PayPal, Raymond James, and numerous public agencies.

Named one of the "21 Women of the 21st Century" by eWomen's News, Robyn is also the author of Standing Ovation Presentations, a guide to mastering communication through her signature ActorTypes™.

Fun Fact: Robyn's New York Times commercial ran so long, Halle Berry parodied her on Saturday Night Live. (Yes, really.)
